

Market potential

Your market and revenue on the Internet is probably much greater than you assume.

Inflow has got access to specific statistics on the search engines which give us a unique opportunity to identify the demand on your products, services and even commercial search keywords in the markets you want to penetrate or develop

What you get:

- All relevant words matching your business
- Markets with marketing potential
- Annual search volume on the leading search engines
- Total traffic potential
- Estimated investment in relevant traffic
- Operational revenues from search engines and assessment of potential from other traffic channels

Your advantages:

- Know your online visitor potential
- Get the relevant markets defined
- Get your online sales potential identified
- Have an overview of the price on relevant user traffic
- Gain insight on your potential earnings
- Know your risk and break even criteria

Contact Inflow and find out more.